77 SQUADRON ROYAL AIR FORCE

"To be, rather than seem"

2 July 2020

Barrie, Ontario,
Canada

This Roll of Honour is in memory of those 101 Canadian members of 77 Squadron (including 4 Canadians who were serving in the RAF) who gave their lives in the service of their country.

Each of the 101 entries in this Roll of Honour contains personal information gleaned from multiple sources—starting with the 77 Squadron Roll of Honour found separately on this site. Every effort has been made with respect to accuracy, however I expect that this will remain a living document and be amended over time. I will also endeavour to annually ensure that the links remain active.

Each of the fallen members of the Squadron has their own page in this Roll of Honour, and where available, and so that visitors can conduct further research if they choose, I have also hyperlinked the individual airman's information from the:

Commonwealth War Grave Commission;
RCAF Service Record (see page 7 for instructions); and,
The Government of Canada's Book of Remembrance.

"At the going down of the sun, and in the morning,
we will remember them"

Michael Anglin

Note: My Father, F/O William Anglin, J28695 RCAF flew with 77 Squadron during the period 16 Aug 44 until 7 May 45. During that time he completed 35 Ops with the "Tarling Crew" and thankfully returned safely to Canada.

Notes on accessing RCAF Service Records

Library and Archives Canada have partnered with Ancestry.ca to allow access for WWII Service Files of War Dead, 1939-1947.

The documents are hosted on the Ancestry.ca website and are available for all but one individual at the "Link To RCAF Service File" link as sampled below.

You do not need to pay for access, however you will need to provide your name and email address to set up a free account.
